A Letter from Archbishop Timothy M. Dolan

Dear Friends of Catholic Charities:

I marvel at the sacrifice, hard work and generosity of New Yorkers teamed with Catholic Charities to ease the increased need of our neighbors hit hard by our still sluggish economy.

Every week—usually more than once—I meet people who tell me how the work of Catholic Charities agencies throughout the New York metropolitan area has touched them. Last spring, when these agencies and programs came together at our Catholic Charities convention, I felt proud to award more than 20 dedicated staff, whose years of service totaled more than 250 years. They represent so many caring staff, volunteers and board members.

Every chance I get I visit one of these magnificent programs and witness the staff's dedication to struggling individuals and families. Last summer, I saw people with disabilities trained to help support themselves by operating machines that design sports T-shirts. In November, I had lunch with a dozen young people, many previously addicted to drugs, in their residence north of Central Park. With the help of Create, Inc. they pulled their lives together and live drug-free. I spent the week before Christmas with some of my favorite New Yorkers, new immigrants seeking better lives for themselves and their families. I had breakfast and distributed Christmas gifts to mothers and their toddlers at St. Cecilia's Church in East Harlem. And while my family knows I am not a shopper, I make an exception for Catholic Charities St. Nicholas Project shopping day at Kmart. The Catholic Charities Junior Board helped me and more than 200 volunteers buy basic necessities that enabled more than 1,200 of our neighbors to have a more blessed Christmas.

I could continue. But allow me instead to thank you for your support of Catholic Charities. Please take a moment to read this report and learn about more of the inspiring work. And please consider increasing your vital contributions of time, donations and prayers to address the growing need.

Gratefully in Christ,

Most Reverend Timothy M. Dolan
Archbishop of New York

Message from the Chairman of the Board of Trustees

John J. Phelan, Jr.

Dear Friends of Catholic Charities:

As our country's economic crisis of the last two years slowly begins to improve, Catholic Charities is even more active providing help and creating hope for all New Yorkers, regardless of whether they are non-Catholic or Catholic. The homeless man in the street, neighbors who have lost their jobs, and children, some born with physical and emotional challenges, all turned to Catholic Charities. Each received support with the compassion and dignity that are hallmarks of Catholic Charities' care.

The Catholic Charities staff—together with volunteers from parishes and local communities, along with more than 90 Catholic Charities affiliated agencies spread throughout the Archdiocese, from Staten Island, through the Hudson Valley, and to the Catskill Mountains—serves an ever growing need.

Catholic Charities is grateful for the steadfast support of Archbishop Timothy Dolan for his constant dedication to the poor and needy. This is expressed through his many warm visits with Monsignor Kevin Sullivan to different agencies and programs within the Archdiocese. Through Archbishop Dolan's writing and homilies, he spreads the gospel message of love and compassion, which is the work of Catholic Charities throughout the New York metropolitan area.

Catholic Charities is also blessed to have a dedicated and active Board of Trustees, who are not only very generous but also give of their time and knowledge by serving on a number of committees to ensure proper oversight and accountability for the resources entrusted to Catholic Charities, and helping to push forward Catholic Charities' vision of the future. We are also fortunate to have Monsignor Kevin Sullivan, the Executive Director of Catholic Charities, whose vision and energy inspires us all to keep driving forward to extend our mission of providing help and creating hope.

I certainly also want to express my gratitude for the support of the individuals, foundations and corporations whose donations make it possible for Catholic Charities to provide help and hope for all our neighbors in need.

With warmest regards,

John J. Phelan, Jr.

A Report to the Community from the Executive Director

Monsignor Kevin Sullivan

Caring people, many who successfully navigated these rough economic times, have asked me the same question throughout the past year. “Given the economy,” they say, “this must be a tough time for Catholic Charities.”

I am grateful for the question. It demonstrates the solidarity so many associated with Catholic Charities feel for those in need, most of whom they do not know. This concern is essential to Catholic Christian faith. The Apostle John wrote, “If someone has enough money to live well and sees a brother or sister in need but shows no compassion—how can God’s love be in that person?” This inspires our work at Catholic Charities to compassionately serve those of all religions.

And yes, these are tough times for Catholic Charities. Need among our neighbors increases while funding falls short. I am grateful that many have reached even deeper and contributed even more to partially fill these shortfalls. Yet I must also acknowledge the burden of increased demand for help. It falls directly on the staff of our 90 Catholic Charities agencies spread throughout the metropolitan area. Cutbacks mean that staff is stretched thin with one worker often filling two jobs. Despite this our staff continues to help vulnerable and struggling New Yorkers—non-Catholics and Catholics alike—with compassion and dignity.

While I am grateful for questions about challenges facing our mission, I also feel concern by the emphasis on the current economy. I worry these questions may not reflect a full awareness of how deep the need is and how vulnerable so many in our society are during better economic times. Even as the economy recovers, “business” will still be “good” for Catholic Charities.

Children will still need protecting and nurturing—day in and day out. Struggling families will face crises that need resolution. Aging grandparents will rely on food pantries that strain to meet demand at the end of each month. Thousands with significant emotional and physical challenges will continue to need homelike residences for safety and care. Newcomers, both immigrants and refugees, will need shielding from exploitation and help integrating into their new homes.

Catholic Charities, I am proud to say, will continue to provide help, always with compassion and dignity. In these hard times, as our agencies struggle with cutbacks, I have been privileged to see so many innovations and expansions that better meet the needs of vulnerable New Yorkers. Examples fill this report. Our Catholic Charities agencies’ commitment to efficiency and accountability is now more important than ever. Program services account for an average of 88 cents of every dollar spent. The Better Business Bureau again certified Catholic Charities as meeting all standards for high-quality philanthropic organizations.

The question about the economy’s impact on Catholic Charities is a good one. But Catholic Charities remains true to its mission by focusing not on the economy but on those we serve. In good times and bad, two questions focus our vision:

- How can we better help those we are serving?
- Are there others we should be reaching out to?

I am grateful for the generosity of donors and the extraordinary dedication of staff. Now, during these difficult times and for more than a century, our federation of Catholic Charities agencies reaches out to provide help and create hope day in and day out in neighborhoods throughout New York City and communities throughout the Hudson Valley.

Providing Help.

Orphaned brothers Andre and Jamal turned to Catholic Charities for help with rent, furniture, food, counseling, school and jobs.

“It’s empowering to know you can be a self-sufficient, productive member of society despite whatever you are facing,” says caseworker Leticia Batista.

Catholic Charities Philanthropy

Inaugural Gala Honorees John K. Castle, Chairman and CEO of Castle Harlan and Christopher Nassetta, President and CEO of Hilton Worldwide, share the celebration with Archbishop Timothy M. Dolan.

Generosity of individuals, corporations and foundations enables Catholic Charities to serve those in need in this environment of increased demand. Catholic Charities gratefully acknowledges this generosity and, in particular, the volunteer leadership of its fundraising efforts.

Archbishop's Committee for Charity

The Stewards of the Archbishop's Committee for Charity serve as Catholic Charities Development Committee, which is co-chaired by Trustees of the Board. The Stewards meet quarterly to provide strategic direction to the fund-raising efforts of the Archbishop's Committee for Charity.

The Archbishop's Committee for Charity is a membership of civic, corporate and philanthropic leaders from the New York metropolitan area who support Catholic Charities at the request of His Excellency, the Most Reverend Timothy M. Dolan, Archbishop of New York. Members provide financial resources to help solve the problems of New Yorkers in need without regard to religion, race, ethnicity or ability to pay. Funds raised by the Archbishop's Committee for Charity help protect and nurture children, feed the hungry, shelter the homeless, strengthen families, support the physically challenged and welcome immigrants and refugees. Membership begins with an annual gift of $5,000 or more and offers participants special benefits throughout the year based upon the level of commitment.

The generosity of the Archbishop's Committee for Charity members enables tens of thousands of individuals and families to live in greater dignity through the compassionate help of Catholic Charities.

Signature Events

Special events occur throughout the year to support the Catholic Charities varied programs and efforts. Individuals, corporations, foundations and the Archbishop's Committee for Charity undergird these events. This enables Catholic Charities to raise additional funds and enhance community outreach and an understanding of services we provide.

Catholic Charities Gala

Catholic Charities held its Inaugural Gala Benefit on February 23, 2010 at the Waldorf-Astoria where it honored John K. Castle, Chairman and CEO of Castle Harlan, and Christopher Nassetta, President and CEO of Hilton Worldwide. The event convened a dynamic group of New Yorkers from the worlds of business, philanthropy, culture, fashion, law, media, politics and religion who share a deep concern for the well-being of our fellow New Yorkers in need. The Inaugural Gala raised more than $1.72 million through the outstanding support of the Catholic Charities Board of Trustees, members of the Archbishop's Committee for Charity and the benevolence of friends, family and colleagues of our honorees. Darlene Rodriguez, an anchor for WNBC 4 New York, served as Mistress of Ceremonies, and Broadway legend Brian Stokes Mitchell performed and received a standing ovation from the more than 700 guests in attendance.

The Archbishop's Christmas Luncheon, in conjunction with the Ladies of Charity, annually raises funds to benefit women and children served by agencies and programs affiliated with Catholic Charities.

The Archbishop's Open, an annual golf classic sponsored by the Archbishop's Committee for Charity, raises funds to support the work and mission of Catholic Charities.

Wall Street Breakfast, held annually in the New York Stock Exchange Board Room, raises funds and heightens the visibility of Catholic Charities among leaders in New York City's corporate, banking and business-finance sectors.

The Club of Champions Dinner raises money to support the Catholic Youth Organization (CYO), which serves tens of thousands of young people each year through athletic, social, spiritual and cultural activities and services. Funds raised at this annual dinner provide critical resources for our inner-city community centers, parish-based athletic programs, summer camp for disabled and minority youth, teen leadership and youth ministry programs.

Junior Board

The Junior Board offers volunteer and philanthropic opportunities to a new generation of caring New Yorkers. A network of more than 500 young professionals engage in social, fundraising, volunteer and faith-based activities to support Catholic Charities, serving those in need in our community.

Junior Board Gala

The springtime Annual Gala hosted by the Junior Board supports fundraising efforts for the Catholic Charities St. Nicholas Project.

St. Nicholas Project

The St. Nicholas Project carries on the tradition of generosity and charity characteristic of St. Nicholas, the third-century Bishop of Myra. Although associated with Christmas, St. Nicholas served the poor throughout the year. Similarly, Catholic Charities helps those in need year-round. At Christmastime, donors from our Adopt-A-Family program and volunteers organized by the Junior Board foster a blessed holiday by partnering with Kmart, UPS and others to provide coats, gloves, blankets and toys to more than 3,200 individuals. We also appreciate Philips Van-Heusen for its fund-raising help.

Catholic Charities gratefully acknowledges key support and partnerships from individuals and businesses whose volunteerism, monetary and in-kind donations make it possible for us to provide critical help and hope for New Yorkers of all religions.

Bequests and Planned Giving

Catholic Charities welcomes and is grateful to friends and partners whose legacies live on through their compassion and generosity. A charitable gift annuity can yield tax deductions and pay high-interest income every month for life. It can also supplement retirement income. Other options for giving include charitable bequests and trusts.

With thoughtful planned giving, donors can ensure financial benefits to themselves while assisting Catholic Charities with its ongoing mission.

Catholic Renewal

Through the inspiration and spiritual growth of its members, this organization of Roman Catholic professionals in the corporate restructuring industry is committed to building a community and network that provides charitable assistance to individuals and groups in need. Catholic Renewal hosts several events throughout the year, including prayer breakfasts with speakers that address contemporary spiritual issues.

Foundations

The Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York gives thanks to foundations whose investments in Catholic Charities enable us to provide help and create hope for New Yorkers in need. Below are two of the many foundations that serve as consistent partners to Catholic Charities throughout the years.

The New York Times Foundation

For nearly a century, The New York Times Foundation has supported the work of Catholic Charities, providing significant funding and publicity by profiling in its annual Neediest Cases Campaign people helped by our federation.

Rusty Staub Emergency Food Program

With generous support from this foundation, Catholic Charities operates "Rusty's Rolling Van," a mobile food pantry that regularly provides meals and other services in Staten Island and the Bronx. The Rusty Staub Foundation also responds to help victims of emergencies in other parts of the metropolitan area.

Online Communities

As Catholic Charities continues to engage in the world of social media, increasing numbers of individuals use the Internet to make donations that support our work, to sign up as volunteers and to raise awareness of our mission and vision. Please visit Catholic Charities on the Web at www.catholiccharitiesny.org as well as on Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Vimeo and FirstGiving.

Partnering with Catholic Charities: A Prudent Investment

New York business sectors—banking, legal, communications, entertainment, real estate, hotels, restaurants and retail—are among many who generously partner with Catholic Charities. Together they help promote the vision and mission of our work through food, coat and toy drives, volunteerism and financial support. Below is a partial listing of our many partners. They are key to spreading the word about the vital services we provide. We appreciate and thank those listed and all those who work behind the scenes for those less fortunate among us.

Deloitte Services, LP

This professional services organization partners with Catholic Charities at its company's annual Impact Day, where employees volunteer their services to non-profit organizations throughout the city. Volunteers gave their time and talent to support several of our programs and agencies. Deloitte's young professionals continue to engage with our Junior Board and, especially, our annual St. Nicholas Project.

Kmart

This department store mega-chain's Astor Place store opens its aisles each year for the Catholic Charities St. Nicholas Project Shopping Day, providing an arena and discounts that generate gifts and winter supplies for more than 1,700 persons in need.

KPMG, LLP

A leading supporter of Catholic Charities and its many initiatives, the KPMG Annual Campaign for the Archbishop's Committee for Charity prompts significant donations from more than 100 KPMG partners and matching funds from the KPMG Foundation.

NBC

This news station helped Catholic Charities create public service announcements. Its morning news program's televised solicitations also yielded thousands of toy donations that Catholic Charities distributed to underprivileged children.

OglivvyOne Worldwide

This leader in interactive marketing helped spread the word about Catholic Charities by strengthening its e-marketing and social media programs and agency website.

One Warm Coat

Thanks to promotions and donations from Good Morning America, the Burlington Coat Factory and the non-profit organization One Warm Coat, Catholic Charities brought nearly 1,000 coats and warmth to New Yorkers in need.

Sterling National Bank & Emigrant Savings Bank

Thanks, in part, to food drives supported by these leading New York banks, Catholic Charities food pantries distribute healthy food to hungry New Yorkers.

Christmas Giving

Christmas is a particularly vulnerable time for the hungry, the homeless, the disabled and the abandoned child. We owe special thanks to all those who partner with us to make this season special. We are grateful for food, toy and clothing drives sponsored by Fisher-Park Lane/ Fisher Brothers Management, Empire City Casino at Yonkers Raceway, Guild of Independent Real Estate Professionals, Old Navy and Tishman Speyer.

Providing Help.

Haydeth struggled to raise her children alone. Catholic Charities affiliate Catholic Big Sisters and Big Brothers stepped in with mentors, counseling and financial support.

“If you help one family, you help the neighborhood; you help the community and it all grows,” says Beatriz Diaz Taveras, Executive Director, Catholic Charities Community Services.

Celebrating Partnerships and Initiatives

POTS serves up help, hope and warm meals to hungry New Yorkers.

The Catholic Charities Bronx Agency Convening brought together more than 40 representatives from 20 Bronx agencies to strengthen collaboration among Bronx social service providers within the federation and enhance services offered to those in need. Catholic Charities marked the Catholic Charities USA centennial with $165,000 in Spreading the Good News Grants. These grants were shared among 27 agencies within the federation to help them spread their good news by developing marketing campaigns, enhancing websites and producing annual reports. Here is some of their good news:

Astor Services for Children & Families

Astor at Highbridge Children's Mental Health Center offers a targeted outpatient mental health clinic dedicated in autumn 2010 for children and adolescents ages 2-21. Counseling, case management and psychiatric counseling serve the specific and challenging needs of this community.

Cardinal Hayes Home for Children

Cardinal Hayes School for Special Children is renowned for helping children once in wheelchairs to walk, children who could not speak to talk and families with little hope a vision of a better future. The school, with space for up to 60 students, built additional therapeutic treatment rooms to increase their quality services for children with developmental disabilities and multiple handicaps.

Cardinal McCloskey

Little Angels Head Start, an exceptional pre-school program formerly operated by the Archdiocese of New York Education Department, provides support for families and a true head start for nearly 1,500 low-income three- and four-year-old children.

Casita Maria

The new Center for Arts and Education offers the South Bronx community state-of-the-art classrooms, fully equipped studios, a new theater, a gallery for performances and exhibitions and a school for artists and writers. Together they empower thousands of young people and their families by creating a culture and opportunity for learning.

Catholic Community Services of Rockland

The Community Garden of Love vegetable garden, established in 2010, harvested 2,000 pounds of fresh produce for needy persons in Haverstraw and surrounding Rockland County. Together with the Catholic Community Services of Rockland food pantry, the bounty provided more than 105,000 meals to 1,500 registered individuals and families.

Mission of the Immaculate Virgin at Mount Loretto

The new Possibili-Tees, a sports apparel and design business, empowers 28 young adults with developmental disabilities, including autism, to reach their full potential—one T-shirt at a time. Persons with disabilities receive real-life employment training and a living wage as they work toward independence and help the business grow toward self-sustainability.

Newburgh Ministry

This multicultural community center, located in depressed downtown Newburgh, remodeled and expanded Winterhaven, an overnight shelter for up to 20 homeless men and women, offering them a true haven 365 days a year.

New York Foundling

Designed to meet the needs of at-risk students in the foster care and child welfare system, the Bronx-based Haven Academy Charter School integrates a rigorous academic curriculum with community services. The Academy completed its third year in 2010, provided 500 hours of respite care and served 175 students. It will add one grade each year until it ultimately serves students from kindergarten through eighth grade.

Part of the Solution (POTS)

Located in the Bronx congressional district with the highest rate of hunger in the United States, POTS is building a Future Home that triples current space and augments services to address growing need. The new space can provide 150,000 meals annually in its community dining room and 350,000 meals at its food pantry, while offering education, employment training, childcare, housing and other antipoverty programs.

Catholic Charities Fiscal Report

Condensed Financial Statement ⁽¹⁾

The Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York provides certain direct community services in addition to coordinating and supporting a federation of affiliated agencies. This Condensed Financial Statement ⁽¹⁾ reflects the activity related to these direct community services and the coordination and support of the federation of agencies.

Pledge of Good Stewardship and Accountability

Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York is committed to the highest standards of good stewardship and accountability. The Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York is separately incorporated according to the not-for-profit laws of New York State, with its own active Board of Trustees.

An independent public accounting firm overseen by the Audit Committee of the Board of Trustees conducts an annual audit of Catholic Charities finances. Funds received by Catholic Charities are carefully monitored to ensure that their use complies with donor intent. Funds are maintained in separate accounts and do not commingle with those of the Archdiocese of New York.

Catholic Charities' policies and procedures have been reviewed and meet the standards of the charitable accountability of the Better Business Bureau's Philanthropic Advisory Service. Catholic Charities complies with all federal, state and local laws regarding discrimination.

Points to Note

Administrative expenses are kept very low. On average, Catholic Charities agencies of the Archdiocese of New York spend 88 cents of each dollar on program expenses.

Although many services are provided through government partnerships, substantial private philanthropy is necessary to sustain the range and quality of services offered by Catholic Charities agencies.

The size of the individual segments of the chart represents a weighted average of the number of people served and the expenditures that hopefully reflects more accurately the proportion of services provided in each category. Some services, primarily residential, are very intensive requiring higher expenditures to serve a smaller number of individuals with special needs. Other categories, such as information and referral and emergency meals, serve many more people at much lower costs per person.

Because of Catholic Charities' comprehensive approach to assistance, some individuals and families receive multiple services over a period of time. Some are served by more than one Catholic Charities agency. It is difficult to know the precise unduplicated number of those served. Our analysis indicates that Catholic Charities served more than 356,000 different individuals in 2010—approximately 10% more than in the previous year.

WELCOMING AND INTEGRATING

Providing Help.

After the Raes fled the violent Myanmar dictatorship, Catholic Charities helped them find housing, furnishings, English classes and, most important, work.

“We at Catholic Charities are your mother, your daughter, your next-door neighbor,” says Nelsi Vasquez, supervisor.

Our Vision

Catholic Charities helps solve the problems of New Yorkers in need—non-Catholics and Catholics alike. The neglected child, the homeless family, and the hungry senior are among those for whom we provide help and create hope. We rebuild lives and touch almost every human need promptly, locally, day in and day out, always with compassion and dignity. We help your neighbors as you would like to be helped if your family were in need.

Our Mission: The Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York seeks to uphold the dignity of each person as made in the image of God by serving the basic needs of the poor, troubled, frail and oppressed of all religions. We collaborate with parishes, as well as non-Catholic and Catholic partners, to build a compassionate and just society. Through a network of administered, sponsored and affiliated agencies, Catholic Charities delivers, coordinates, and advocates for quality human services and programs touching almost every human need.
